Dear Warren County Park User:

Thank you for reserving a Warren County Conservation facility. It is indeed our pleasure to have you as a visitor.

If your guests need maps to the facility you have reserved, maps of the park, information on the park your reservation is in or information about the Warren County Conservation Board, they will find what they need on the web at <http://www.warrencb.org>.

As you are aware, reservations in all WCCB facilities except the Annett Nature Center are free of charge, provided as a service by the Warren County Conservation Board. There are, however, definite costs in time, material and equipment associated with your reservation.

We hope that park users taking advantage of our free shelter reservation system will make a contribution to help promote WCCB facilities and activities. Please make checks payable to Friends of Warren County Conservation and send them to the above address. This will allow the conservation board to make sure that the money is used directly for conservation use. You can direct your donation to any specific project you choose, or let us use it towards a project of our choosing. Of course, your donation is tax deductible.

We appreciate your consideration of this request.

Sincerely,

Jim Priebe, Director
Warren County Conservation Board

Dear Warren County Park User,

Thank you for your request to reserve a Warren County Conservation Area. You may post the enclosed reservation voucher the day you are using the area, if you would like, but please remember to remove it before you leave. We want you to enjoy your Warren County Parks and Conservation Areas and request that you follow the rules listed below:

Reservation Voucher - As reservations are free of charge, posting the reservation voucher is the reservation holder's responsibility.

Park Hours – Parks are open 6:30 A.M. to 10:00 P.M.

Beer or Liquor – Only beer and light wine are allowed. NO KEGS.

Nails – Prohibited. If you must attach items to a tree, shelter or other structure use staples or tacks. You are responsible for removal of any fasteners used. Remember, this reservation is free. Time required to remove anything left behind by shelter users may result in fee structures being set up for shelter use.

Music – Or other noise is permitted as long as it does not disturb actual or potential park visitors.

Fires – Must be restricted to the boxes and rings provided and completely extinguished before you leave the area.

Camping – Allowed only at Hickory Hills Park and Otter Creek Park and must be confined to designated areas.

Electricity – The WCCB does not provide light bulbs for the Hickory Hills barn. There may or may not be light bulbs in the barn when you arrive.

Trash – Help us keep the parks clean for everyone by taking your trash with you when you leave.

Please notify us of any changes regarding your reservation. We invite you to stop in our office and pick up a map and brief description of other Warren County Conservation Areas available to you. We hope you will find occasion to visit all the Warren County Parks and Conservation Areas.

Sincerely,

Jim Priebe, Director
Warren County Conservation Board
